Progress Made on Conference Against Castro

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States was reported making progress today in its campaign to raise a solid front of Latin American opposition to the Castro regime in Cuba.

Foreign ministers attending a 20-nation inter-American conference at the State Department were said to be developing agreement that further steps must be taken to bottle up the Soviet-backed Communist threat in its Cuban base.

The conference, which opened Tuesday, is scheduled to end late today, probably with a final communiqué. Steps to tighten the economic and political squeeze on Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime may follow.

These could include further clamping down on trade with Cuba and imposition of stricter controls over travel, propaganda and money flow from Cuba to Central and South America.

President Kennedy was reported to have told a luncheon meeting of the foreign ministers Tuesday that the Communist threat posed by developments in Cuba is the responsibility not just of the United States alone but of all the American nations. Backing up an earlier conference speech by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Kennedy reportedly called for solid support for both defensive and offensive strategies.

Members of Congress who attended the luncheon said the President's remarks constituted an eloquent appeal for support of anti-Castro measures throughout the Western Hemisphere. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., said that the President "really laid it on the line."

Americans attending the luncheon said views expressed by visiting foreign ministers in private conversation indicated that a considerable degree of unity was developing on the Cuban problem.

U.S. Astronaut Slated for Six World Orbits

By HOWARD BENEDICT
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Performing as if he were right at home in the weightless world of space, Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. completed two orbits of the earth today and described his flight as a "real, real thrill."

He was in complete command of his Sigma 7 spacecraft as he passed over Cape Canaveral at 10:23 a.m. (EST) at the end of the second orbit and swung into the third. There was all evidence that pilot and spacecraft were in condition to complete the full six-orbit mission.

His exuberant description of the flight came down from the sky a few minutes earlier in a discussion with Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., monitoring the flight at the Point Arguello, Calif., tracking station.

"It's hard to describe things up here," Schirra told the man who had pioneered U.S. orbital flight earlier this year.

Schirra said he had a delightful report to make to Glenn: "I, to, see fireflies." He referred to the luminous particles which Glenn saw flying outside his spacecraft each time he went through a sunrise. At the end of the first orbit, Schirra also reported seeing the bright particles. He told them in a talk with Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter, who was at the Guaymas, Mexico, station.

Carpenter on his flight last May, also saw the particles and was able to create them by pounding on the side of his capsule. This led scientists to believe that the fireflies—or snowflakes, as Carpenter called them—were pieces of frost breaking off the capsule and being illuminated by the rising sun.

As Schirra zipped above Cape Canaveral to begin orbit three, he commenced drifting flight for the first time. He shut off all controls and electrical power and allowed the craft to yaw freely on its roll, pitch and yaw axes.

In this phase, the vehicle rotates slowly, making about one revolution every 30 minutes if control is not reestablished by the pilot. In drifting flight, the capsule does not float far off course because it is flying an orbital path determined by the laws of nature, much like a bullet fired by a rifle.

Purpose of the drifting is to conserve control fuel and electrical power. Just how well Schirra did this was important to an 18 orbit, 24-hour flight—the next U.S. manned in-space shot set for 1963.

Schirra's flight, if it went six orbits, would nearly double the time spent by astronauts Glenn and Carpenter earlier this year. But it would be far short of Russia's manned orbital flight time.

Near the completion of the second orbit, Project Mercury operations director Walter C. Williams reported that the mission was proceeding very satisfactorily and he saw no reason why it shouldn't be continued.

Early in the flight, Schirra literally sweated out a problem with his spacecraft temperature control system. But as he neared the end of the second orbit, he said the problem had diminished to a point where it wasn't worth discussion.

About the end of orbit two, Schirra still had 90 per cent of his fuel supply remaining and Mercury Control reported he was managing it very well. The hydrogen peroxide fuel is used to fire small jets located on the capsule surface to help maintain the capsule's desired position in flight.

The flight plan called for Schirra to have 48 per cent fuel in both his tanks for both the automatic and manual control systems, and 35 per cent remaining in each before the vital reentry maneuver at the end of the flight.

Glenn and Carpenter both ran dangerously low on fuel during their three orbit flights. Both, in fact, had empty tanks after re-entry. Mismanagement of the fuel system was blamed for the low fuel in both cases.

Schirra carried the same amount of fuel that Glenn and Carpenter did, and one of his main assignments was to determine how well he could conserve fuel in setting guidelines for future U.S. space flights.

At the end of orbit two, Schirra reported to the control center at Cape Canaveral that all systems were performing very satisfactorily in the capsule and that he was ready to begin the drifting flight.

At 10:25 a.m., after three hours and 10 minutes of flight, Schirra was asked by the Bermuda tracking station: "Did you see Echo?"

The astronaut did not see the big balloon communications satellite which was in the area, because he was conserving fuel and did not want to change the craft's

Special Election of Clarksville

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Mayor J. T. White set Oct. 1 as the date for a special election on Clarksville's $500,000 urban renewal program after a meeting of the city council Tuesday night.

The council was advised by City Clerk Sarah McCoy that supplemental petitions filed by persons seeking a referendum on the renewal question were adequate.

The council set up the renewal program, headed by Dr. Don Hamm, some time ago. Opponents circulated petitions calling for a popular vote.

Cotton Picking Contest Starts

BLYTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Street dances got the annual National Cotton Picking Contest off to a gala start Tuesday night.

The five-day event ends Saturday with the picking contest. The winner will collect $1,000.

Other highlights include a parade Thursday afternoon and a Cotton Queen Pageant Thursday night.

Administration Hit in Senate for Sending Army to Mississippi

Sen. Byrd Asks
Where Troops
Will Hit Next

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., has charged collusion between the White House and the federal courts in breaking the racial barrier at the University of Mississippi.

He denounced President Kennedy's action Tuesday in a Senate speech.

"Where, and under what circumstances, will the government of the United States next use military force against our own people to enforce federal court orders?" Byrd asked.

"The use of military force for such purposes," said the Virginian, "is even more offensive to our form of government when elements of the judicial branch are obviously acting—not independently of—but in collusion with the executive branch which commands the military force."

Byrd declared collusion was clear "by the nature of Department of Justice activity before federal courts and judges involved which is being reflected in the detail of an increasing number of orders and decrees they issue."

He said adherence to "checks and balances, and division of power on which our system of government rests" may have spared bloodshed.

Asked for a comment on the "Ole Miss" situation, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said "our government cannot long endure unless responsible Americans abide by the decisions of our courts."

The real issue, he said, was stated by the President Sunday night "when he called upon the people to comply with the decision without violence."

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., announced he has invited Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., to take part in a Senate Judiciary Committee investigation of "all events at the University of Mississippi since U.S. marshals and Army troops moved in."

Stennis, not a committee member, said he was pleased indeed to accept.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, a committee member, told newsmen he thought it would require committee action to bring a non-member into the investigation.

Dirksen joined Republican leaders in voicing support of the President's action in sending in troops and added he was withholding decision on Republican participation in Eastland's proposed investigation.

Commission to Take Up Claim

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Claims Commission will hear today a $25,000 claim against the State Hospital for the fatal scalding of a mental patient in an accident two years ago.

H. M. Friday claims auditor, said the claim was filed by Leanne Thomas of Forrest City for the estate of Mrs. Maggie Moore, the victim.

Thomas contends that Mrs. Moore, who was a mother of six children, should have been constantly attended at the hospital but was alone when she accidentally stepped into a tub of scalding water May 29, 1959.

3 Charged With False Pretense

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Three persons were charged Tuesday with obtaining money under false pretense in connection with sale of tickets to an unscheduled Grand Ole Opry show.

Whoreabouts of the three were not known. They are: Walter Donnell, Earl Cashmore and Deloris Cramm. The charges list no home address.

Deputy Prosecutor Leonard Greenhaw said the three claimed to be representatives of the Nashville, Tenn., country music show and sold about $2,000 worth of tickets to a show in Fort Smith and $1,000 worth to a show in Fayetteville.

The Grand Ole Opry knew nothing about the deal, Greenhaw said, and the shows were never scheduled.

Several hundred persons showed up for the Fayetteville show and found a darkened auditorium. The fraud was discovered in time for the American Legion, which sponsored the Fort Smith show, to tell ticket holders not to come.

Prosecutor Lyman Mikel of Fort Smith said he still was investigating the scheme there. No charges have been filed at Fort Smith.

Arkansan One of Nine Sentenced

SEATTLE (AP)—Jerry Don Bowling, 19, of Sweet Home, Ark. was among nine sailors from the destroyer Buchanan sentenced to six months in prison on charges of attempted theft and concealment of arms and ammunition from the cruiser Plint.

Eight of the men pleaded guilty to attempted theft and several pistols, shotguns, carbines and knives and a quantity of ammunition. The ninth pleaded guilty to trying to conceal government property.

Some of the arms were found by divers under the Buchanan while it was docked at Bremerton, Wash.

All but seven days of the sentence was suspended for the men.

Woman Hit by Train, Killed

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Grace Viola Vance, 37, of Jonesboro, was killed early today when she was struck by a train at the northwest edge of Jonesboro.

L. A. Wyatt, train engineer, said the woman was walking down the middle of the railroad track with her back to the train when he saw her.

He said he pulled the whistle of the train several times and, when it became apparent the woman didn't hear the whistle, threw on the emergency brakes. The train

Board Rules in Favor of Cafe

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board has held that strikes against the Franke Cafeteria chain were economic in nature and not the result of unfair labor practices.

Lawrence B. Burrow, attorney for Franke's, Inc., said the finding meant that employees involved in the charges by Local 200 of the Hotel, Motel and Restaurant Workers Union are not entitled to be reinstated.

Union spokesmen said the finding meant that employees involved in the charges by Local 200 of the Hotel, Motel and Restaurant Workers Union are not entitled to be reinstated.

The union struck Franke's four Little Rock cafeterias in December, 1961. Two of the cafeterias since have been closed. Franke's Hot Springs establishment was not affected.

The examiner's report will go to the NLRB which usually upholds such findings.

Forrest City to Get New Plant

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP)—Airtherm Products of St. Louis announced plans Tuesday to build a 50,000-square foot heating and air conditioning equipment plant at Forrest City.

Construction will start Oct. 10. Initial employment, starting in January, will be 100 men. Later, the firm will hire 300.

F. Paul Kohlberg, president of the firm, said heating and air conditioning equipment for commercial and industrial buildings will be manufactured in the Forrest City plant.

The 31-year-old firm also manufactures steel roof deck, flooring and siding and steel tanks and containers under the Airtherm name.

Brownlee and Rogers Construction Co., of Little Rock has a contract to build the plant.

Airtherm did not announce proposed production or payroll figures.

Troops Stop Demonstration at Dormitory

By EDMOND LEBRETON
OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—A pair of effigy hangings disturbed the returning calm on the University of Mississippi campus today as a dwindling federal force maintained the peace.

Between midnight and dawn, some 35 students gathered in front of the apartment of James H. Meredith, the university's first known Negro student, set fire to an effigy and exploded fireworks.

The alert military quickly moved in and quelled the demonstration. There were no arrests.

Shortly after daybreak, a dummy clad in a blue, pink and white uniform dangled from the second-floor window of a building near the Meredith apartment building.

A sign hanging from the neck of the dummy said to "Go back to Africa where you belong."

Attendance at the university dropped after the enrollment of Meredith, a 29-year-old Negro from Kosciusko. Many students had returned to their homes after the weekend riots in which two men died.

University chancellor J. D. Williams appealed to the students to return. He said he had been informed the Ole Miss campus is now secure, and that parents can be assured of the complete safety of sons and daughters.

Meredith spent his second day as a student Tuesday, accompanied to classes by federal marshals. There were no demonstrations.

In another development over Mississippi's defiance of federal court orders to enroll Meredith, the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans gave Gov. Ross Barnett a form of probation until Oct. 12 on the contempt citation against him. This apparently was a move designed to test Barnett's willingness to accept Meredith's entry into the university.

Barnett, who was not in court, had no comment on the decision. He could be subject to $10,000 fine daily and imprisonment.

Army authorities announced a cutback in the 12,000-man federal force Tuesday night. Lt. Col. Roger Whiting, public information officer for the Army field command in Oxford, said two battle groups—about 2,400 men—left Oxford for Memphis while a third group of 1,200 was redeployed to Columbus, Miss. All were from the 101st Airborne Division, the famed "Screaming Eagles" of World War II.

The situation at Oxford slowly returned to normal. Shopkeepers reopened their stores.

Assessment Seminar

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Sixteen of Arkansas' 17 new county assessors began studying assessment methods Tuesday in a two-day course conducted by the state Assessment Co-ordination Division. About 30 assessors' deputies also are attending the seminar.

DOROTHY DIX

She's Terrified of School

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I'm 15 and need help. I'm just starting my sophomore year and fear I'm going to get into the same trouble I had as a freshman, when I failed two of my major subjects and barely passed the others. I went to summer school and made up one subject with a "B", but got a "C" in the other.

I know my failure was half my fault, but my parents didn't help. At the start of last year I was so enthusiastic; I wanted to get good grades. But as I went along I didn't care if I passed or even lived; in fact I tried to kill myself twice — that's how terrible it really was.

Not once last year did my parents bother to ask what my grades were. Both work till five or six at night. Only when the term ended and my guidance counselor told them how badly I had done did they want to help. The same thing happened with summer school. They remained indifferent about my grades until I came home. If they do sit up and take notice it's always at the dinner table. This makes me very nervous.

They yell and yell and when they stop I go to cry myself to sleep. They tell me my IQ is fairly good and that I should be able to skim through the work. I tell them it's too hard. I honestly don't think I can take another year of this. —Frightened Stiff

Dear Frightened: Once upon a time there was an optimist and pessimist. Each was shown a cup into which water had been poured halfway. The pessimist said, "The cup is half empty." The optimist said, "The cup is half full." There's a moral in this story for you.

Don't look at the dark side of your school problem — there is a bright side despite your gloom. Don't think of the subjects you failed, think of those you passed, including the one in which you made "B". That's a very respectable grade. And don't think of the times you were enthusiastic about it. Just one "B", only one brief flurry of enthusiasm, proves that you have definite potential as a student. So does the fact you're deeply concerned about your lack of achievement. Better to be dissatisfied and want to improve than to be totally uncaring.

You can take some concrete steps to raise your performance. Get your eyes and ears examined; often a student who thinks she is dull is hampered by a minor defect which makes it hard to catch the teacher's words or see what's written on the blackboard.

Ask some teacher whom you personally admire to help on your study habits. Your parents, who work, aren't the best source of this help, and your guidance counselor may be harassed by other students' problems.

Why not seek out the teacher who gave you the "B"? By this grade he or she already knows that you have ability and can suggest better ways to focus your attention, to avoid wasting study time, and so on. What you need is individual coaching by someone who sees your promise, and I know of no good teacher who would not be eager to help a student who is eager to help herself.

Don't let your parents in on this phase of the project. Plug away quickly and by the end of this school year I'm sure you'll be able to surprise them with better marks.

Dear Helen: Recently a 13-year-old wrote you about wearing make-up and dating. What in the name of San Hill is wrong with this? With my mother's approval, I've dated and worn make-up since I was 12, three years ago. Of course I apply my make-up correctly, and don't use too much, and I must have my parents' consent for each date (the boys range from 16 to 19). I'm not allowed to date on school nights. Never in all my dating have I met one boy who wanted to do me harm; I make A's and B's in school. I'm popular with friends and teachers; I buy my own clothes; thanks to a summer job. Now what do you think of all this?

—Disagree With You

Dear Disagree: I've had a torrent of indignant mail from teens about my views on 13-year-olds. All I can say to you — and them — is that in the last analysis each girl should use her mother as the best judge of these matters.

If make-up and dating are acceptable to her and to the community in which you live (in many they are not), then go ahead. But as you point out, parental consent should be had for each date, and make-up should be applied with a light touch. When women twice your age and older strive to achieve by make-up the fresh bloom of youth that you have by nature, it's silly to cover up that priceless asset with thick and gooey artificial coatings.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "What Age for Dating."

Debts, Tuitions to Be Reviewed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bonded debt of the University of Arkansas and seven state colleges and the tuition fees charged by the institutions will be reviewed Friday by the Legislative Council's Education Committee at a special meeting.

Presidents of the institutions will be present. The committee also will discuss a study of the feasibility of providing free textbooks to high school students. The present free books program ends after the eighth grade.

Committee Chairman Lonnie Etheridge said he called the special meeting to clear up some of the committee's business before the council begins budget hearings later this month.

Finalists Named

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pamela Stephens of Stuttgart and Joetta Boyce of Little Rock were named as Tuesday night's finalists in the Miss Fair Queen Contest at the Arkansas Livestock Exposition. Two girls are being selected each of the first five nights of the fair to compete against one another Saturday night for a $250 scholarship and an expense-paid trip to Hollywood.

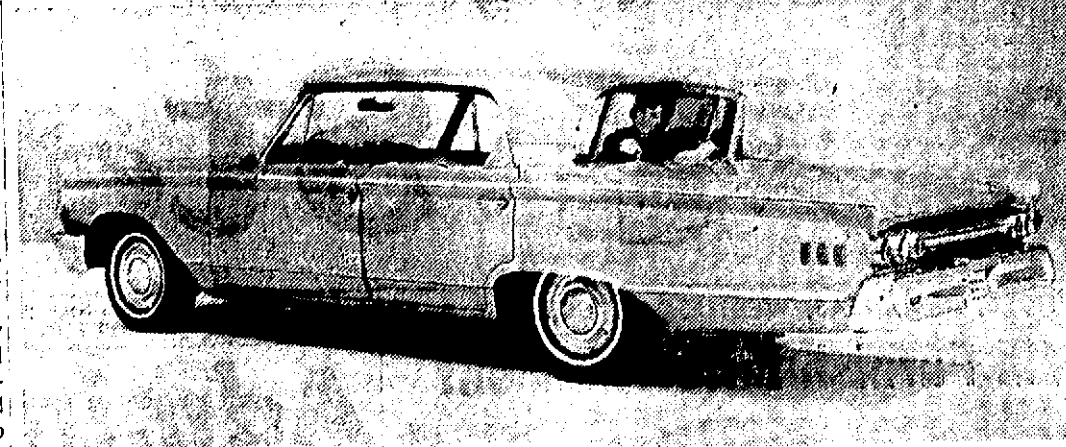

U. S. total exports in 1961 of domestic merchandise were valued at $20.6 billion, according to the Census Bureau.

Rookie Muffs Key Play for Giants

By JACK STEVENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A rookie pitcher's miff of a key play could be the reason the San Francisco Giants aren't resting up for the World Series today.

Instead, they lost to the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-7 Tuesday sending the National League playoff into a third and deciding game.

Deadlocked 7-7 in the ninth, Dodgers Maury Wills and Jim Gilliam drew walks. With the obvious strategy a hunt, Manager

Alvin Dark set up a counter then intentionally walked Tommy Davis to set up a possible double.

In the defensive play, third baseman Jimmy Davenport was to race in while shortstop Jose Pagan raced over to cover third the moment the hurler threw.

Right-hander Gaylord Perry, who spent most of the season with Tacoma in the Pacific Coast League, came in to pitch to Daryl Spencer. Spencer bunted as expected, but right back to the pitcher.

As Giants' catcher Johnny Orsino hollered "Third, third," and the Dodgers' third base coach Leo Durocher shouted "first, first," Perry whirled and threw out the batter at first. Most everyone expected him to throw to third.

Wills went to third and Gilliam to second on the play. The Giants maneuvered. In the defensive play, third baseman Jimmy Davenport was to race in while shortstop Jose Pagan raced over to cover third the moment the hurler threw.

Broyles Has Porkers Working

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) —

Coach Frank Broyles predicted Monday that Texas Christian would emphasize running against Arkansas Saturday but just to be safe, the Porkers worked on pass defense Tuesday.

Broyles had Gordon Guest of Pine Bluff imitating TCU's Sonny Gibbs at quarterback for the T-team.

"He (Guest) isn't as big as Gibbs," Broyles quipped, "but he's the biggest we've got." Guest is 6 feet 2 inches and weighs 210; Gibbs is 6 feet 7 inches and weighs 230.

The Porkers spent most of an hour and 40 minutes drills working against Gibbs-style passes. When they turned to offense, Broyles said, they showed up poorly.

Freshman Coach Barry Switzer, who scouted TCU told the Porkers Tuesday that the Horned Frogs are as big as usual, faster than last year and a better football team.

"Everything is going for TCU this year," Broyles said. "The team has much more speed and better balance. Gibbs is a tremendous quarterback, but the Frogs also have one of the league's finest fullbacks in Tommy Joe Crutcher and they are much improved at halfback."

The Saturday night game at TCU marks the opening of Arkansas' Southwest Conference season. The Porkers have won or shared the last three titles. No one ever has won four straight.

BURSTING WITH NEWS... '63 MERCURYS

NEWS-MAKING ROOF FROM MONTEREY. The advantages of Monterey's distinctive styling go far beyond its beauty. This is elegance that works. See how the recessed rear window slants inward? It stays clearer in rain or snow. On hot days, it opens for breezeway ventilation. The overhanging roof shades rear-seat passengers from the sun, gives more headroom, keeps glare off the rear window for better rearview visibility. More good news: a Mercury Marauder 390 V-8 is Monterey's standard engine.

SPARKLING NEW MODELS FROM METEOR. For 1963, Meteor is the hot brand. Meteor is the sparkler with a whole new line of models in the low-price field—sleek new low-to-the-road hardtops, sedans, and three new station wagons. Feel sporty?

THE LID'S OFF COMET. Now a jaunty new convertible joins Comet's all-fun line. This sleek, rakish beauty comes in two models: the Custom and the dashing S-22, with bucket seats and optional stick shift. All Comets now have a complete package of service-savers like self-adjusting brakes. And Comet still heads its class with the largest trunk, longest wheelbase, and best resale value record. See Comet's whole happy '63 line-up: convertibles, sedans, station wagons. Fun-test your favorite Comet now!

Unbeaten Cats Have Tough Foes Ahead

By VINCE FOSTER

The Hope Bobcats, after a third battle, still remain undefeated, and with a record of four wins and no losses. Their non-conference victories have been over Texarkana, 12-0, and the Queen 20-14. A district win over Malvern 35-13, have enabled the Bobcats to take the lead of Region 13 but were held as the half 44A. Yet the Cats still have to meet the challenging teams from Camden, the Camden Panthers, back Dan Stuart took a liking to a Red aerial and dashed 20 yards to the Red 25. But on the second play, Randy Worthey returned the interception and the quarter ended still tied.

The Red got rolling in the final period when J. D. McWilliams recovered a blocked punt on the 30, but the Blue defense again snuffed the drive. The die McManus, who pilfered a Red pass, returning it seven yards. With time running out, Larry Hampton recovered a fumble to set the stage for a thrilling end-which three seconds remained when Dowell with 13, Burnett, Russell, Red Signal Caller Koen dashed 21, McElarty and Sullivan each have yards around end and was finally TD each while Murphy holds. The Red fielded a punt on the 30, followed by 350, followed by McElarty with 203, Burnett with 160, Wray 99, McDowell 86, Sullivan 67, Aldridge 54, Russell 23, Wassell 7, and Samuels 6. McElarty has the best yardage per carry with nine, and Burnett has seven.

The Bobcats have a total of 56 first downs to their opponents 32 and are averaging 311 total yards per game in contrast to 155 for their victims. With help from Joe

Thinks Cats Will Win Over Eagles

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Staff Writer

The second phase of clarification of the Big Nine Conference race will be held this week at Quigley Stadium in Little Rock.

Port Smith's Grizzlies and Little Rock Central provide the manpower. Waiting off stage is Pine Bluff. The Zebras dented Port Smith hopes this year with a sterling 6-2 decision and this is the chance for the Grizzlies to assert themselves as contenders for the crown; they are defending.

Little Rock Central has only a single Big Nine victory under its belt. The Tigers scrambled for a 13-7 nod over Hot Springs a week ago in a game that markedly was not one-sided, as it seemed it should have been.

Hot Springs has been just a step from victory in its losses this year, and the Trojans always play Central a good game, so maybe the Tigers are as good as people are saying.

We missed just three picks last week for a 66.1 percentage. Here's how we see them this week:

LITTLE ROCK CENTRAL 14. Port Smith 7. The Tigers can throw the ball, and they probably have the best pair of halfbacks in the state. Pine Bluff pointed out some weaknesses in the Grizzly defense, and the Bengals, no doubt, noticed.

PINE BLUFF 24. El Dorado 7. The Zebras walloped Blytheville last week to hand the Chicks their first setback. It was impressive, to learning how unbounded the Pine Bluff offense is. El Dorado hasn't got the guns to run it over.

LITTLE ROCK HALL 20. Blytheville 13. The Warriors are the forgotten team in the Big Nine chase, but they'll come out of the dark with this one.

HOT SPRINGS 18. Texarkana 0. The Trojan defense hasn't been perfect, but Texarkana's rebuilding program is further away than it looked like a while back.

NORTH LITTLE ROCK 20. Van Buren 0. The Wildcats will finally win their second game—against a team from the same district that dropped the first to the North Siders—Region 1AA.

Now, for a dash through Class AA.

Fayetteville 12. Springdale 7. Fayetteville will move up on Van Buren for second place in Region 1AA.

Harrison 28. Subiaco 0. Alas, the Trojans are winless and the Gobblins already are up to Halloween tricks.

Rogers 24. Huntsville 0. Rogers went on a rampage against Fayetteville, and Huntsville is no comparison.

Forrest City 14. Marianna 13. A good Class A team against a medium Class AA team.

Helena 14. Brinkley 0. The Indians will be too tough—simple as that.

Jonesboro 21. West Memphis 0. The Blue Devils may make it closer, or the Hurricane may see that it isn't.

Newport 20. Paragould 0. The Greyhounds outrank Paragould where league standings are counted.

Wynne 14. Stuttgart 0. The Ricebirds had to come from behind to tie DeWitt last week.

Benton 30. Mabelvale 6. Too much power, savvy, steam.

Conway 21. Little Rock Catholic 20. A high-powered offense and sturdy defense. A tough one to pick, but we'll go with the Wampus Cats' winning ways.

Jacksonville 13. Searcy 0. The Red Devils have the edge in size and speed.

Russellville 21. Morrilton 14. Two teams even in Region 3AA with Ronnie South the difference in this one.

Magnet Cove 7. Sylvan Hills 6. Just a lurch.

Camden 14. Malvern 0. The Panthers are still in the race for the Region 4AA title and won't be sidetracked by Malvern.

Hope 20. Crossett 14. The Bobcats lead Region 4AA and they didn't get there by accident.

Fairview 14. Arkadelphia 0. Class AA over Class A.

Magnolia 14. DeQueen 0. Magnolia has beaten better teams.

Smackover 21. Warren 0. You couldn't tell it by looking at the record, but the Buckaroos play good football.

Stolen bases—Wills, Los Angeles, 101; W. Davis, Los Angeles, 32.

Pitching (based on 15 or more decisions)—Purkey, Cincinnati, 23-5, .821; Sanford, San Francisco, 24-7.

Strikeouts—Drysdale, Los Angeles, 232; Koufax, Los Angeles, 21. (American League completed).

Fight Results

BEAUMONT, Tex.—Ralph Dupas, 147, New Orleans, stopped Earl Citizen, 152, Beaumont, 4.

LOS ANGELES—Johnny Newman, 148, Los Angeles, outpointed Eddie Pace, 144, Santa Monica, Calif., 10.

SACRAMENTO, Calif.—Bobby Scanlon, 139, Sacramento, outpointed Alfredo Escobar, 134, Los Angeles, 10.

HONOLULU—Stan Harrington, 147, Honolulu, knocked out Rocky Kalingo, 145, Philippines,

Picking Grid Winners This Weekend

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The batting average in pigskin picking here last week was almost as bad as that of the Los Angeles Dodgers in trying to save the National League pennant. The Dodgers went 35 innings without a run. The average here was 43 right and 9 wrong for .327.

This week's winners: Ohio State over UCLA; This game pits two great backs, Paul Warfield of Ohio State and Kermit Alexander of UCLA, against each other but look at the size of Warfield's playmates!

Alabama over Vanderbilt: A year ago 'Bama smothered Vanderbilt 35-6. It should be about the same this time around.

Texas over Tulane: Is there a better fullback in the country than Texas' Ray Poage?

Penn State over Rice: The Texas Owls are weak at tackle and expect to derail Penn State's powerhouse.

Georgia Tech over Louisiana State: Billy Lothridge and the home field give Tech a slight edge.

Iowa over Southern California: Matt Szykowny and the Hawk-eyes' new "Boater T" formation to outscore Willie (the Wisp) Brown.

Mississippi over Houston: Ole Miss has had its problems this week but they were not permitted to interfere with the footballers.

Miami over Florida State: State has a horde of returning lettermen and ambitions to go big-time but Miami has George Mira and that is a big difference.

Michigan over Army: A week ago Michigan was to win easily. Army was picked to lose. Turned out just the opposite. This is for real, however.

Elsewhere in the week's top games:

Washington over Kansas State, as Christian.

Today's Game to Decide National Loop

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The New York Yankees were waiting in the wings today to see whom they would play in the World Series opening Thursday as the San Francisco Giants and Los Angeles Dodgers met in the decisive play-off game for the National League pennant.

Hanging on the ropes after suffering an 8-0 beating in the first game Monday, the Dodgers rallied from a 6-0 deficit Tuesday and snared the best of three series with a dramatic 8-7 triumph.

Although they used eight pitchers in a losing effort, the Giants had one of their aces, Juan Marichal (18-11), ready for today's game. The Dodgers, burdened by an overworked pitching staff, called upon Johnny Podres (15-13) who lost Sunday's final game of the regular schedule, 1-0, to St. Louis.

The right-handed Marichal has beaten the Dodgers three times in four decisions this year. Podres has beaten the Giants only once in four outings this year, but one of those was a 3-1 victory over Marichal.

Dodger manager Walter Alton feels his club is on the move after snapping a string of 35 consecutive scoreless innings and a five-game losing streak. Blanked by Jack Sanford on two hits through five innings, the Dodgers crashed through for seven runs in the sixth inning, when Giant manager Alvin Dark was forced to call upon four pitchers.

Sanford, battling a heavy cold, Nebraska over Iowa State, Oregon State over Stanford, New Mexico over Texas Western, Missouri over Arizona, Purdue over Notre Dame, Arkansas over Texas, as Christian.

Ashdown Project

ASHDOWN, Ark. (AP)—A low bid of $273,000 was submitted by Dixie Builders of Texarkana Tuesday on a contract for construction of a 25-bed Little River County nursing home in Ashdown. The county will pay $90,000 of the cost with the federal government providing the rest under the Hill-Burton Act.

was removed after walking lead-off batter Jim Gilliam on a 3-2 pitch. He had to run hard in the top of the inning, sliding into second base and then scoring on a single.

The Dodgers did most of their damage while right-hander Stu Miller and left-hander Billy O'Dell were on the mound. The big hit was a three-run triple by pinch-hitter Lee Walls off O'Dell.

The Dodgers scored the winning run in the ninth, breaking a 7-7 tie. Bob Bolin, the fifth Giant pitcher, walked leadoff batter Maury Wills. Dark brought in left-hander Dick Lemay and he walked Jim Gilliam, after throwing to first base eight times trying to keep Wills from stealing.

Dark then called for Gaylord Perry, a rookie right-hander, to face pinch-hitter Daryl Spencer. Perry fielded the ex-Giant's bunt, batted to the mound and had an easy force play on Wills at third.

Instead, he threw to first, while the runners advanced.

Mike McCormack, a left hander, took over and walked Tommy Davis intentionally. Ron Fairly, who had only two hits in his last 32 times at bat, then hit a sacrifice fly to Willie Mays in shallow center. Mays' hurried throw was to the left of the plate, on the third base side, and the flashing Wills slid past catcher Johnny Orsino.

Stan Williams, the fifth Dodger pitcher, was credited with the victory. He quelled a Giant uprising in the eighth and retired the side in the ninth, striking out the last two.

A major league record for a nine-inning game was set when the teams struggled through 4 hours and 18 minutes. A total of 42 players were used. The Giants' eight pitchers equaled a National League record.

Teachers, A&M Have Defense

ARKANSAS STATE TEACHERS (1-2) and Arkansas A&M (0-3) may not have the best records in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference, but they are showing other teams how pass defense should work.

The Bears have allowed only six pass completions in three games for an average of 32 yards gained per game. A&M has permitted nine completions for a 33-yard average.

The other statistical advantages, however, rest with Arkansas Tech, the unbeaten (3-0) league leader. Tech is tops in total offense with an average of 307.3 yards, rushing yardage with 223 and total defense with 177.7.

Algerian Leader to Visit JFK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Algerian Premier Ahmed Ben Bella will visit President Kennedy at the White House on Oct. 15, press secretary Pierre Salinger announced today.

Salinger told reporters that Kennedy has invited the Algerian premier to meet with him on the morning of Oct. 15 and be his guest at lunch on the same day, and Ben Bella has accepted.

Ben Bella and his foreign minister, Mohammed Khemisti, are due in New York later this week to be present when their country is admitted to the United Nations, likely on Oct. 8.

All 1963 Oldsmobile F-85 models have been designed with more the look of an Oldsmobile, more impressive looking cars, immediately identifiable as members of the Oldsmobile product family. The F-85 Deluxe Sedan (top photo, above) typifies the crisp youthful styling theme. The Cutlass Coupe (lower photo) has been designed for even greater sports car appeal. Bucket seats are standard equipment. Actual overall length of the new F-85 has been increased only four inches while the maneuverability of its 112-inch wheelbase has been retained. In addition to their important styling changes, all F-85 models feature numerous mechanical improvements for economy of maintenance, increased safety and comfort, better handling and smoother, quieter operation. The Hydra-Matic transmission, for example, is much smoother, comparable to the transmission on the Oldsmobile 88's and 98's.

The big man repeated, "What are you trying to do? I don't see what all this has got to do with our disagreement, and I don't see why you think it's your business." "I'll tell you what I'm trying to do, Steve. I'm trying to understand you. Maybe this San Jacinto business is just a minor lie that you didn't start—maybe you have just allowed people to jump to conclusions. On the other hand, maybe you have built yourself up into a big fraud and have become blind to facts."

The big man had changed so that there was no casual air about him, strained or otherwise, and no hint of weakness. He was angry but for once was suppressing it. "I came here to tell you something and you don't make it easy with all this slander."

"If it's about yourself, tell me," the judge said. "I'll have to ask you to keep it secret. Give me your word."

"Is it about Ivey?"

"It's about the possibility of me withdrawing from this fight. Tomorrow, he's going to tell the world."

"Steve, you are not guilty of what you claim. Listen, I have a revelation to make, and I don't grass slowly. "I was the man that paid Ivey. But I know he didn't kill that kid. I didn't pay him to do that and Bill Ivey didn't kill without being paid for it."

The judge had been studying his brother's face. "Steve," he said slowly, "I don't believe you and I'm happy that I don't, real happy."

"Don't believe me! What do you mean? How could I possibly expect to benefit . . ."

"You expect to make Ivey look like an admirable person. But I'm not interested in Ivey. I'm trying to understand you. I think I know one thing about you—you don't shoot people in the back. My opinion here does not depend on our being brothers either. I just don't think you pay to have people shot in the back. What I don't understand is why you will go to such lengths to free Ivey."

"Why do you return and return to me, even swallow your pride, to pursue our argument?"

"I've told you why, and if Ivey mounts that scaffold day after tomorrow, he's going to tell the world."

"Steve, you are not guilty of what you claim. Listen, I have a revelation to make, and I don't to see I can't allow Ivey to mount that scaffold." He brought his fist down on the desk with a bang. "You know who the leader of the ranchers is around here. You're looking at him. And if you think I'm going to back down then you don't know how I got where I am today." There was something final in the action of Steve Pendergrass as he walked out. He had made up his mind on some course of action.

Before his brother had come in, the judge had been dividing his attention between a journal he was reading and the main street of town. Now he was searching in his mind for some indication of truth or falsity in Steve's confession. If his brother were guilty of paying Ivey, it would explain his obsession.

But perhaps just plain stubbornness would, too. And there was the code. Wasn't it true that people such as Steve made it a point of honor not to shoot a man in the back? Or was it a point of honor that extended only to cattlemen and not to inferior ordinary people? Certainly some rancher had fibed to follow any such code and had paid Ivey, knowing that he was shooting men in the back. He could not logically deny that Steve had done it, on the basis that ranchers don't do such things. His belief that Steve was incapable of it must come from the fact that Steve was his brother, and the judge knew that such beliefs have a peculiar weakness.

There was always the possibility that Steve was maneuvering as a front for someone else. He clung to that hope.

Reserves Praised by Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Reserve Officers Association, celebrating its 40th birthday today, was praised by President Kennedy for "an enviable record of service."

Other government officials also sent congratulatory messages to the association, formed in Washington Oct. 2-4, 1922 to promote a strong national defense.

The association claims 5,000 members in 1,000 chapters in this country and at overseas bases.

Board Feels Heat of Act Seek Repeal

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Public school boards are feeling the heat of Act 231 of 1961 and an effort may be made to get it repealed by the 1963 General Assembly.

And, state Education Department officials said Tuesday, except for a safety valve in the act, it might now be causing fiscal trouble in many districts.

The act requires school districts to spend at least as high a percentage of local funds for teacher salaries in any given year as they did in the previous year. It was designed to keep the districts from diverting local funds to operating or construction when they get a larger allotment of state funds (intended principally for teacher salaries).

The Education Department said about half the state's 418 districts had pulled the safety valve — a provision which says the state Board of Education can exempt a district from terms of the act if enforcement would cause financial hardship.

H. Z. Snell, director of budgets in the Education Department, said he detected that the districts will seek repeal of the act in 1961.

But E. G. Kizzia, director of the school budgets division of the state Comptroller's Office, said repeal of Act 231 was not the answer.

"The legislature and governor have made it evident they want some control over local boards,"

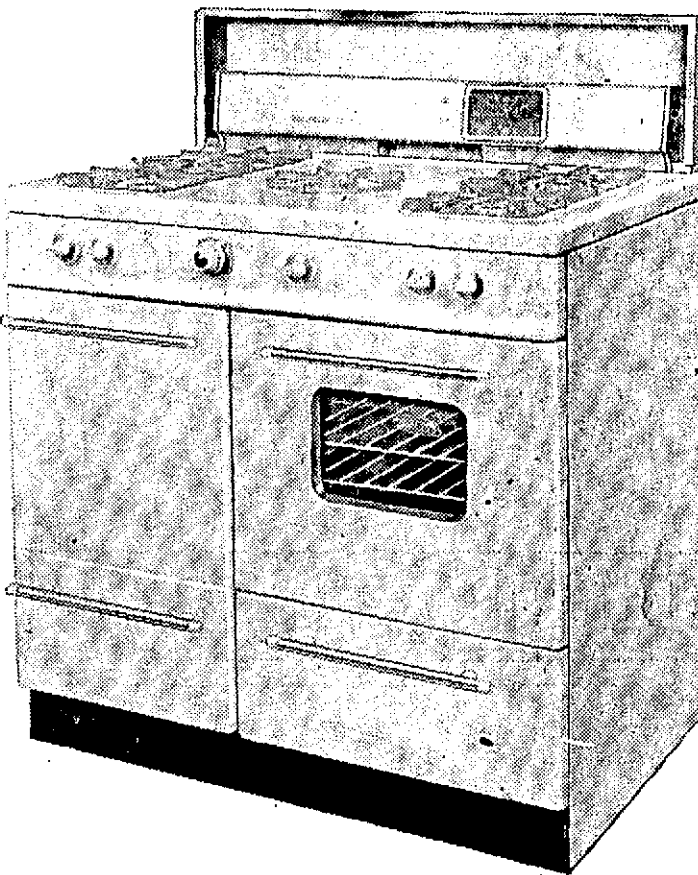

Kizzia said. "Repeal of Act 231 without a substitute measure is not the answer."

Kizzia said he had made a rough draft of a substitute act which will be based on current fiscal situations rather than on the situation that existed the year before.

Changes Are Apparent in The Church

Valican Council First of 3 stories of the future of the Church. Pope John XXIII's favorite word for it is "aggiornamento" meaning "bringing the Church up to date."

The council will effect a real reform in the Church, says the Most Rev. Lorenz Jaeger, archbishop of Padernburg, Germany.

EDITOR'S NOTE—The future of Christianity will be deeply influenced by the decisions which come from the Vatican Council, which begins its first session next week in Rome—the first in 92 years, the 21st since the days of the apostles. Here, in the first of three articles, an AP religion news writer who will cover the meetings probes the changes and promises.

By GEORGE CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Pivotal changes apparently are in the making for the Roman Catholic Church.

Just what form they will take, and how far they will go, hinges on the 2nd Vatican Council, opening Oct. 11 in Rome—the largest gathering of ecclesiastical authorities in the Church's 2,000-year history.

Its decisions will affect, directly or indirectly, the whole of Christendom.

The aim is a general renovation

Got That Snake the Hard Way

HOUSTON, Ark. (AP) — Gary Bolling, 17, found a 4½-foot cane-brake rattlesnake in woods near his home last Thursday, and thought it would make a nice exhibit for the Little Rock Zoo.

The snake was in the process of swallowing a squirrel it had killed, so Gary picked it up by the tail and carried it more than a mile to his home.

He kept the snake in a box overnight, and the rattler dropped the squirrel and tried to get out. Gary kept it in by shaking the box.

The next day he gave the snake to H. B. Matthews of North Little Rock, who supplies snakes to the zoo. It is now the largest rattler in the zoo.

Matthews said it was a miracle Gary wasn't bitten. "I'd just as soon he wouldn't catch any more snakes for me," he said.

Although they will not have a vote, they will sit in on general discussion sessions closed to the press.

All told, the council may bring up to 10,000 visiting participants to Rome. It is expected to continue until mid 1963 with recesses for Christmas and Easter.

olicies and members of other churches, has centered on possible steps to foster Christian re-union—a cause strongly espoused by Pope John.

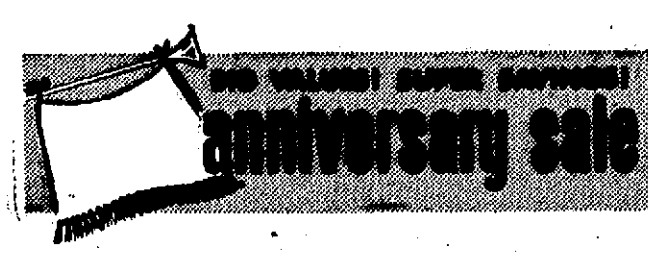

In view of the old, entrenched obstacles, however, there is clearly no intention of attempting re-union now. But many Catholic leaders expect the council to reduce some of the obstacles.

There are about a billion Christians in the world, 550 million of them Roman Catholics.

The council, says Archbishop Karl J. Alter of Cincinnati, will "review every phase of church life — doctrine, liturgy, law, missions, training of the clergy, sacraments, revision of the liturgical books."

Sooner or Later You Make a Talk

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—It happens to everyone.

Sooner or later, the president of some organization you belong to comes up to you and says:

"George, I want you to give the main address at our dinner meeting next month."

Well, you point out that you're a man of few words, never made a speech in your life, and the prospect scares you to death.

But the president cuts into your pretty protests with an unflattering ultimatum.

"You have to do it, George. Everybody else I can think of is out of town."

"But what'll I talk about?" you ask lamely.

"Talk about anything," he replies brutally. "Don't worry—we'll lock the doors so they can't get away. But don't make it too long. Not over an hour."

An hour? That seems like an eternity.

But you buckle down gamely to the task of writing your speech.

For a solid month your boss at the office doesn't get a dime's worth of real work out of you.

At home you growl like a bear at every disturbing sound as you scribble page after page of your speech. Genius is in labor.

Rehearsing your speech before the morning mirror, you gesture with your razor—and slash off the tip of your nose and part of one ear.

The evening before the meeting you rise at the family dinner table and give your speech its final tryout. The cat falls asleep first, then your kids, then your wife. She wakes up and looks at the clock as you finish.

"It's wonderful," she says and adds tactfully, "but it ran an hour and 55 minutes. Is that as long as they wanted?"

You sigh and throw away every other page of your manuscript.

Comes the big night. Well, the minister praises the food in a 29-minute invocation. The preliminary speakers drone on, and on.

Then they introduce the distinguished persons in the audience, and it turns out everybody is distinguished — and has an equally distinguished wife.

Then they give awards for an hour. Then they announce the election of officers and the 35-member board of directors, each of whom must be presented individually.

At last it is your turn. The president gets up, gives you a 17-minute introduction, taking you from birth to the present moment.

As you arise he whispers: "We're running terribly late. Better cut your talk to five minutes. I don't think they can stand any more."

You feel like crying, but what can you do? You give a couple of feeble wisecracks and then skip the rest of your speech and close with your peroration:

"Remember as goes motherhood and the federal highway program, so goes America!"

Well, everybody likes the idea of his mother riding on a comfortable highway. The audience is also so grateful for being spared further boredom that all rise and give you a standing ovation. You are the hit of the evening.

Moral: The best way for a public speaker to make lifelong friends is to tell a joke, give a one-sentence constructive message—and then sit down as fast as he can.

Bagging Buck With Bow Is Real Tricky

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bagging a buck with bow and arrow requires something more than mechanical skill with archery equipment.

Plenty of archers have the ability to put an arrow into a deer's vitals, but first comes the tricky part—getting close enough to the animal to make the required shot.

Difficulty of the project is recognized by the State Game and Fish Commission, which grants a full three-month season with a limit of two deer of either sex. The season opened Oct. 1 and continues through Dec. 31.

Planning a bow hunting expedition for deer is much like plotting a military expedition, says W. M. (Bill) Apple of Little Rock, veteran Arkansas Wildlife Federation leader.

"You must find in advance a spot that deer frequent," he said. "Then you must study the terrain and plan just exactly what you want to do. Even then, you have no guarantee of success."

Using a bow and arrow is not like firing a shotgun or rifle, where the hunter can often get two or three shots before the deer escapes. The archer usually gets just one try.

The bow hunter does have one advantage. Deer aren't as nervous during the bow season as they are during the gun season, when dogs and gunfire keep them ever alert.

Bow hunters have adopted two techniques which improve their chances of success. Most of them, after they locate a likely spot, build a platform in the branches of a tree, being careful to leave shooting room. They also have found it helpful to wear camouflage clothing, which American troops used during World War II in jungle combat.

Hunters feel that both practices make them less noticeable to deer, an animal whose senses are extremely well attuned to danger.

For the actual shot, Apple said, most good hunters use a bow with a pull of from 50-70 pounds. The law requires that bows used in deer hunting must pull at least 40 pounds, to assure that enough force for a killing shot.

Up to 40 yards is considered a reasonable shooting distance, Apple said, although skilled bowmen can score from greater distances.

Bow hunting for deer has gained tremendous popularity in the past five years, Apple said. This, he said, is primarily due to improved archery equipment which has come on the market.

Proposed Budget of Expenditures Together with Tax Levy for Fiscal Year Beginning July 1, 1963 to and including June 30, 1964
The Board of Directors of Guernsey School District No. 20 of Hempstead County, Arkansas, in compliance with the requirements of Act 403 of 1951 and Amendment 40 to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, have prepared, approved, and hereby make public the proposed budget of expenditures together with the tax rate as follows:
General Control, $700.00; Instruction, $43,000; Operation of School Buildings, $3,900; Maintenance of School Plant and Equipment, $1,500; Auxiliary Agencies (including transportation), $8,500; Fixed Charges, $2,800; Capital Outlay, $3,000; Debt Service, $1,100.
To provide for the foregoing proposed budget of expenditures the Board of Directors proposes a tax levy of 37 mills.
5 mills of the above proposed tax levy of 37 mills is for a proposed bond issue of $25,000, estimated to run 20 years for the purpose of erecting and equipping a new elementary school building, which will constitute a continuing annual levy until the principal of and interest on the bonds are paid in full.

Cities Must Publish Audits

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The attorney general's office ruled today that municipalities must prepare an audit of their financial conditions not later than May 5 of each year.
The audit must show all income

BAD NEWS FOR FARMERS—August rains came too late to prevent widespread damage to crops and livestock in the Northeast, but the drought was broken in some areas and alleviated in others. Generally, streamflow was deficient in large areas of the Southwest, Southeast and the Northeast. Ground-water levels declined in general and were below average or registered new monthly lows. Data from U.S. Department of the Interior.

Attorneys Trying to Free Walker

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Attorneys for former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker are prepared to go to court today to seek his release from a government order committing him to a psychiatric examination.

Walker, charged with inciting insurrection and with seditious conspiracy in the University of Mississippi rioting, was brought from Oxford, Miss., to the U. S. Medical Center for federal prisoners here Monday night.

The order for committal was issued at Oxford Tuesday by U.S. Dist. Judge Claude Clayton.

Walker's family and friends attempted to arrange his freedom under a bond set for $100,000, but his attorneys were notified by U.S. Dist. Atty. F. Russell Millin that during the 60 to 90 day commitment he would not be bailable.

However, in Washington, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was quoted as saying Walker would be released on bail. Rep. Bruce Alger, R-Tex., said Kennedy assured him no examination of Walker could be made without a court hearing.

The 53-year-old Walker's attorneys advised him to refuse to cooperate in any prison-conducted examination.

Clyde J. Watts, his chief counsel, said Walker is willing to submit to an examination by any court-approved psychiatrist.

Walker was instructed, Watts said, "that his response to questions asked by physicians or psychiatrists at the medical center should be only his name, rank and serial number, the same as an American soldier who has been captured."

Walker, who commanded the troops which forced integration of Central High School in Little Rock, Ark., in 1957, is accused of rallying mob attacks against U.S. Marshals at Oxford.

The marshals were acting under presidential order to protect Negro student James H. Meredith during his registration at the then all-white university.

Watts said, however, that Walker told him "he at no time led any assault, charge or overt act against any state or federal officer, including U.S. marshals" and was in Oxford only to observe.

Walker, an Army veteran of 30 years, was relieved of his army command in Germany last year after a reprimand for trying to indoctrinate his troops politically. He resigned his commission and has become principal spokesman for ultra conservatives.

Today—Wide-Track Pontiac '63

Obvious, isn't it, that Pontiac's come up with another beauty this year. Fresh over-and-under headlights, clean profile—but you can see that. There's a wider Wide-Track, too, and a full line of Trophy V-6's. [That ought to be enough to make those other cars turn green.] And we haven't mentioned such happy touches as self-adjusting brakes. So what, pray tell, could be keeping you from a new Pontiac of your own? A small suggestion. Don't run down to see one. Gallop! Wide-Track Pontiac
